

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers, are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria. Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"Your preparation known as Castoria I have used for years in children's complaints and I have found nothing better." John J. Laffey, M. D., Cleveland, Ohio.

"For several years I recommended your 'Castoria' and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results." Edward F. Parker, M. D., New York City.

"Your Castoria is a meritorious household remedy. It is purely vegetable and acts as a mild cathartic. Above all, it does no harm, which is more than can be said of the great majority of children's remedies." Victor H. Coffman, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I have prescribed your Castoria in many cases and have always found it an efficient and speedy remedy." A. F. Feiler, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild, laxative effect and freedom from harm." Edward F. Parker, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a sure and reliable medicine for infants and children. In fact it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments." J. A. Parker, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

ROOSEVELT, SHOT IN BREAST, MAKES SPEECH FOR CALMNESS

Asks Crowd Not to Grow Violent Because His Life Was Attempted

Shot by an assassin, Col. Roosevelt did a remarkable thing in Milwaukee on the night of October 14. He made his way to the platform and finished his speech. The following is the report of the event:

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 14.—Displaying his bloodstained shirt front and holding the manuscript which, in his breast pocket, had spent the force of his would-be assassin's bullet, Theodore Roosevelt reassured the listening throng tonight that it took more than a bullet wound to kill a bull moose. His speech followed:

"Friends, I shall have to ask you to be as quiet as possible. I do not know whether you fully understand that I have just been shot, but it takes more than that to kill a bull moose. Fortunately, I had my manuscript" (holding up manuscript, showing the audience where the bullet had gone through), "so you see I was going to make a long speech. And, friends, the hole is in it that the bullet went through, and it probably saved it from going into my heart. The bullet is in me now, so that I can not make a very long speech—but I will try my best."

"And now, friends, I want to take advantage of this incident to say as solemn a word of warning as I know how to my fellow Americans. First of all, I want to say this about myself: I have altogether too many important things to think of to pay any heed or feel any concern over my own death. Now, I would not speak to you insincerely within five minutes of being shot. I am telling you the literal truth when I say that my concern is for many other things. It is not in the least for my own life."

"I want you to understand that I am ahead of the game, anyway. No man has had a happier life than I have had—a happier life in every way. I have been able to do certain things that I greatly wished to do, and I am interested in doing other things. I can tell you with absolute truthfulness that I am very much uninterested in whether I am shot or not."

"It was just as when I was colonel of my regiment I always felt that a private was to be excused for feeling at times some pangs of anxiety about his personal safety, but I can not understand a man fit to be a colonel who can pay any heed to his personal safety when he is occupied as he ought to be occupied with the absorbing desire to do his duty."

"I am in this cause with my whole heart and soul. I believe in the progressive movement—a movement for the betterment of mankind, the movement for making life a little easier for all our people, a movement to try to take the burdens off the man, and especially the woman in this country who is most oppressed. I am absorbed in the success of that movement. I feel uncommonly proud in belonging to that movement."

"Friends, I ask you now this evening to accept what I am saying as absolute truth when I tell you I am not thinking of my own success. I am not thinking of my life or of anything connected with me personally. I am saying this by way of introduction, because I want to say something very serious to our people, and especially to the newspapers."

"I don't know who the man was who shot me tonight. He was seized by one of my stenographers, Mr. Martin, and, I suppose, in the hands of the police now. He shot to kill me. I am just going to show you" (Colonel Roosevelt then unbuttoned his coat and vest and showed his white shirt badly stained with blood).

"Now, friends, I am going to be as quiet as possible, even if I am not able to give the challenge of the bull moose quite as loudly. I do not know who he was or what party he represented. He was a coward. He stood in the darkness in the crowd around the automobile, and when he cheered me, and I got up to bow, he stepped forward and shot me in the breast."

"It is a very natural thing that weak and vicious minds should be inflamed to acts of violence by the kind of foul mendacity and abuse that have been heaped upon me for the last months by the papers in the interests not only of Mr. Debs but of Mr. Wilson and Mr. Taft. Friends, I will disown and repudiate any man of my party who attacks with such vile, foul slander and abuse by opponents of any other party."

"Now, I wish to say to the speakers and to the newspaper representing both the republican and democratic and socialist parties that they can not, month in and month out, year in and year out, make the kind of slander, bitter and malicious, that they have made and not expect that brutal and violent characters, especially when the brutality is accompanied by a not too strong mind, will be unaffected by it."

"I am not speaking for myself at all; I give you my word I do not care a rap about being shot—not a rap. I have had a good many experiences in my time, and this is only one of them. What I do care for is my country. I wish I were able to impress on our people the duty to feel strongly, but to speak truthfully of their opponents. I say now I have never said on the stump one word against any opponent that I would not defend in the library. I have said nothing that I could not substantiate, and nothing I ought not to have said; nothing that, looking back, I would not say again. I am all right."

COMMENCEMENT

By GEORGE FITCH

Commencement is an annual ceremony in which the pupils who have absorbed an entire course of study submit samples of the wisdom they have acquired to their friends and relatives.

There are many kinds of commencements, including those in High Schools, Universities, Training Schools for Nurses, Business Colleges, Conservatories of Music, Barber Colleges, Veterinary Schools, Theological Seminaries, Boxing Academies and Correspondence Schools. But of all these, by far the most important is the High School Commencement, where the pale young graduate, in his first black suit, plants one foot on the threshold of life and the other in the floral decorations on the village stage, and discovers that beyond the Alps lies Italy, and that beyond the footlights are 10,000 people, each one of whom is glaring at him with two eyes like automobile searchlights.

Commencement lies midway in terror between the first visit to the dentist and the wedding march down the church aisle. After a boy has gotten over these three crises he is tolerably safe for the rest of his life if he is firm in his refusal to respond to toasts. Commencement, like a wedding, consists mostly of clothes for the girl, and embarrassment for the young man. Clothes take away the horror of both occasions for girls, and keep them happy through the ordeal, but there is no opiate for the young man who has to lug his 80-pound feet and ham-sized hands to the front of the stage at commencement and try to illuminate the world with an oration of which all he can remember at that moment is the fourth line from the last.

Educators often wonder why so many young men leave High School to become captains of industry or grocery boys, and thus abandon the cause of education to their sisters. The answer, however, is simple. The boys are not abandoning education, but the commencement oration. If the sterling young athletes in our High Schools were to be allowed to speak at commencement per phonograph, while they themselves sat behind a bank of palms and perspired unseen by the populace, they would not quit school with such firmness and determination in their junior year.

Commencements are held in June at an average temperature of 101 degrees and are a great source of joy to parents, florists and dressmakers. Many entirely new discoveries in history, science and politics are made by the essayists at commencement exercises, but thus far the wicked trust which runs the encyclopedias has scornfully declined to embody this rare wisdom in print.
